

IMPROVEMENTS TO GOT THROUGH AT ONCE

Council Acts Favorably on Petitions to Pave Willow Street and Improve George Street

LATTER ALSO MAY BE PAVED

Number of Streets to be Improved With Sidewalks and Gutters—to Pave Downtown Alleys

Many proposed improvements for sidewalks, curb and gutters, two paved alleys in the business district and the paving of North Willow street, were acted favorably upon Tuesday night at the regular session of the city council, and specifications ordered drawn for early construction.

A petition signed by several residents of North Willow street, in the Belmont addition, asked for the paving with concrete of the street from Eleventh street, north to the corporation line, near Fourteenth street.

Many new homes are being erected on this street, and those houses that have already been built, have not had good streets, and rather than spend money for a macadam street, it was decided by the property owners to build a permanent street. Sidewalks and curb and gutters also were granted at a former meeting of the council.

In keeping step with the improvement in the north part of Rushville, sidewalks were ordered in West Eleventh street. One resolution calls for sidewalks from Morgan street west to Jackson street, on the north side, and another resolution calls for sidewalks from Main street, west to Jackson on the south side of Eleventh.

This improvement was ordered to keep the street in line with the new concrete street that will be built this fall. The street will pass the new school building, and when the improvements are all made, Eleventh street will be on a par with all other improved streets, and many vacant lots will be available for building purposes on the thoroughly modern street.

In passing these improvement resolutions, the council fixed September 18 as the time for hearing remonstrances, and the work will be ordered through this fall unless remonstrances delay the action.

Another improvement resolution was adopted in the improvement of North George street. This is the street that extends north of Eleventh to the corporation line, or near Fourteenth street, and is one of the streets that is rapidly being built up with the new homes. The Endres-Tonpkins factory is at the end of the street.

The resolution called for a macadam street, but if the property owners want a permanent street, the same as in Willow street, the bids can be ordered for that material, and all future expense of the street will be stopped. Remonstrances on this improvement will be heard September 18.

North Jackson street will be improved, and a resolution was adopted, with remonstrances being fixed for September 18. This improvement calls for sidewalks, curb and gutters extending on the east side of Jackson street, commencing at Ninth street and running to Eleventh.

BRIDGE FLOORING COLLAPSES

Heavy Truck Blamed for Damage on
The Connersville Road

Several feet of flooring near the middle of the large wooden bridge at the foot of Bunker Hill, on the road near Connersville from this city, gave away Tuesday morning while a heavily loaded truck was crossing. The truck was not damaged and no one was injured.

Detour signs have been placed on the road, and repairs will be made on the bridge, before it can be opened for traffic.

According to reports reaching Connersville, the truck and load was excessive. The driver or owner of the truck was not learned, but it is understood that it was enroute to Louisville. The floor timbers gave away slowly, allowing the truck time to reach a solid section.

WATSON PRESENTS RAIL PLAN

Indiana Senator Confers With Coolidge Over Consolidation

Swampscott, Mass., Sept. 2.—Legislation to force the railroads of the United States into a series of gigantic consolidations after six or seven years, will be placed by President Coolidge before congress next winter.

The president conferred with Senator Watson of Indiana, republican ranking members of the senate interstate commerce committee, today and they agreed upon a plan to amend the transportation act of 1920, whereby the railroads would be given six or seven years to merge voluntarily.

PN-9-1 IS SOUGHT OVER A WIDE AREA

No Great Cause for Anxiety Over Plight of Flag Plane of United States—Hawaii Flight

AIR AND SEA CRAFT SEARCH

Collision With Destroyer William Jones Prevents PN-9-3 From Completing Flight

Naval Headquarters, San Francisco, Calif., Sept. 2.—Missing now for almost eighteen hours, the flag plane, PN-9-1, in the United States-Hawaii flight, was sought over a wide area of tropical waters by every available craft of sea and air, out of Honolulu, according to radio reports here today.

A half dozen seaplanes from Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, have joined twelve submarines and a small ocean craft in search of the water where the PN-9 No. 1, with Commander John Rodgers and his crew, last were heard from at 4:12 p. m. yesterday.

With his motor dead and lack of gasoline, Commander Rodgers had no choice, but to let the big aircraft drift. Reports here said aside from rain squalls, the weather was favorable and there was no great cause of anxiety, although it was realized hours might pass before one of the searching planes or ships discovered the PN-9, No. 1.

Naval radio at 10:26 a. m. received official word from the Tanager that the missing plane had not been found.

A collision with the destroyer William Jones and not mechanical trouble prevented the naval seaplane PN-9 No. 3 from completing its flight to Hawaii, after being 300 miles of sea.

With its five men of the crew still aboard the plane, weary, unshaven and sleepy, but eager to start again, the big craft was towed into San Francisco bay today, and dragged onto the ways at Crissy Field.

Determined to make another effort if higher authorities will permit, the men, under the direction of Lieut. Arthur P. Snoddy, plane commander, immediately started repairing the damage to their craft.

"We are marking time now and do not expect any further word from the PN 9 No. 1 search until about 9 o'clock, said Captain Stanford E. Moses here early today.

While expressing confidence that reports would show Commander Rodgers and his crew all safe, Captain Moses, flight project commander, showed the strain of an all-night watch with no definite news.

"We haven't given up hope," said Moses. "We dare not even consider that the men may be lost. Experienced as they are in Hawaiian waters, with the plane they have, it is inconceivable that disaster should overtake them."

Operator's Wife Waits Word

Terre Haute, Ind., Sept. 2.—Mrs. Theresa Stantz, wife of O. C. Stantz, radio operator of the missing seaplane, PN-9, No. 1, today anxiously awaited word as to her husband's fate. She is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Weber of Terre Haute, Ind. Stantz has been in the navy for twelve years, and was operator aboard the first American ship sunk by a German submarine in the war.

ROOM FOR ONE MORE

TREMOR IS FELT IN THIS LOCALITY

Many Rushville People Awakened About 5 a. m. Today by Slight Earthquake

HOUSES ARE SHAKEN

Central and Southern Indiana Visited by Tremors But no Damage is Reported

A slight earth tremor, similar to that reported in central and southern Indiana, was felt in Rushville and in many parts of Rush county early today.

A number of Rushville people questioned today said that they were awakened this morning about five o'clock by their beds shaking and they at first were unable to account for the unusual phenomena.

When those thus awakened began to exchange experiences, they found all happened at the same time, and that all were alike.

Persons who were out doors at the time of the tremor did not notice it, but a number who were awake and in their homes felt the floors shake under their feet.

No damage from the quake locally or in other parts of the state was reported.

The disturbance centered in the pocket district of the southwestern part of the state and was felt plainly at Evansville, where citizens described the movement of the earth as resembling the rocking of a boat.

Residents in the northern part of Indianapolis also reported feeling a movement of the earth.

At Petersburg buildings were shaken and dishes were rattled and a low rumbling noise was heard.

Hundreds of persons at Vincennes were awakened by the quake at 5:55 a. m. The quake was also reported at Washington and Mt. Vernon.

The weather bureau here had no official report of a quake.

Several families on North Pennsylvania street in Indianapolis were aroused and hastened to the porches of their houses, according to Mrs. Anna B. Robinson.

Persons living on North Delaware street also reported the quake and a member of the street cleaning department said he felt the tremor downtown.

TAKES LIBERTY AND LAW AS KEYNOTE OF ADDRESS

Charles E. Hughes Says Indication of Intolerant Spirit is Most Ominous Sign of Times

SPEAKS TO BAR ASSOCIATION

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 2.—(U.P.)—Taking liberty and law as keynotes for his address upon the declaration of Independence, Charles E. Hughes, president of the American Bar Association, opened the 48th convention of that body today.

"The most ominous sign of our time," Hughes declared, is the indication of the growth of an intolerant spirit which is most dangerous when armed with sincere conviction. "It is a spirit whose wrath must be turned away by the soft answers of sweet reasonableness. It can be exerted only by invoking the genius which watched over our infancy—a good genius still potent, let us believe—the American spirit of civil and religious liberty."

Hughes address was delivered before 4,000 persons, including some 2,500 of some of the country's ablest lawyers and broadcast to the country by radio.

Remus was shocked at the news of his wife had filed suit against him for divorce. He wore rough prison clothing but appeared to be in good health.

CAUTIONS AGAINST RAPID EXPANSION

U. S. Department of Agriculture
Warns That High Prices on Farm
May Take Sharp Reduction

POOR YIELDS RESPONSIBLE

Department Asserts in September Report Prosperity is Not Due to Increased Demands

Washington, Sept. 2.—(U.P.)—Prevalent high prices for crops and livestock may take a sharp reduction if too rapid expansion in production takes place, the United States department of agriculture warns in its September report.

Farmers and livestock dealers are assured by the department that the present bonanza of high prices is due solely to poor yields and not to increased demands. The spring wheat forecast, the department points out, is 23,000,000 bushels below last year. With the present price level 30 cents a bushel above last year a stimulation in wheat production is expected.

Extreme dry weather in portions of the corn belt and the southwest have reduced the corn crop to the average. The present corn estimate is 3,000,000,000 bushels. Corn, like wheat, the survey says, now has a purchasing power per bushel slightly higher than in previous times.

An increased demand for feeder stock of all classes this fall, is forecast by the department. The livestock industry however, is slowly turning to a general program of heavier production.

The improvement in the general financial position of farmers is shown by the department's price index, which places the purchasing power of 30 farm products combined in terms of non-agricultural commodities, at 91, compared with year pre-war level of 100.

Corn Business Stimulant

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 2.—(U.P.)—A general stimulation of business throughout Indiana as a result of the bumper corn crop this fall was predicted today by William Howard, secretary of the Indianapolis Board of Trade.

"From all available information Indiana has the best outlook of any midwestern state for a good corn crop," Howard said.

Statisticians estimate the yield in Indiana this year will be nearly 210,000,000 bushels, almost double

RETALIATES WITH SUIT FOR DIVORCE

Jasper Parish Files Action Soon After Wife Sues for Legal Separation in Circuit Court

TWO MEN ARE NAMED

Two Other Complaints Filed; One
Involving Possession of Rushville
Business Room

A two-fold divorce action is on file in the circuit court, as Tuesday Mrs. Lula Parish brought an action against her husband, Jasper Parish, and which was followed a few hours later with a similar action filed by Mr. Parish, and which places each party seeking a divorce.

The parties reside in Carthage, where Mr. Parish is the town marshal. In his complaint, he charges his wife with having a high temper, was quarrelsome, and left him on numerous occasions. The complaint names two men as contributing to their alleged separation—Bernie Augustine and Ed Wolf. The action sets out that the men live in Knightstown, and one of them offered to establish a home for her in that place. At the time of their alleged separation, the complaint alleges that Mrs. Parish was gone several days with Augustine, and failed to give an explanation of her actions upon her return.

Two other complaints were filed today in the circuit court, one being for possession of a business room in Rushville, and the other a suit involving a property line in which the court is asked to quiet the title to real estate.

In the complaint for possession, Harry C. and Morris R. Howell are plaintiffs and Denny Ryan, defendant. The suit alleges that in August, 1922, Will M. Frazee owned the business building at Main and First street, and entered into a three year lease with the defendant, Denny Ryan, owner of a pool room in the building.

The lease was to run for three years, with the privilege of renewing for three more years. The stipulated rent is set out as $60 a month. The complaint sets out that in March, 1924, Mr. Frazee sold the business rooms to the plaintiffs, Howell Brothers, and the lease with the renter was transferred, expiring August 1, of this year. A demand for the room was given, according to the complaint, but it has not been delivered to them, and a renewal contract for three years was offered the defendant, the suit alleges for the stipulated rental of $120 a month. The defendant is charged with failing to pay the $120 rent, and has offered only the $60 a month rent, as continued in the first contract, which a mount has been refused by the plaintiffs.

The suit seeks to gain possession of the room under the terms of the contract, and the plaintiffs also are seeking damages for the retention of the rooms by the defendant.

Another case in which Fannie H. Ayres is plaintiff and Edward and Laura Billings, defendants, involves an alleged dispute over the property line separating their two homes in East Eighth street. The action is for the ejectment of the defendants from her alleged premises.

The plaintiff sets out in her suit that she is the owner of a lot, and

TRAFFIC PROBLEMS GET CONSIDERATION

Council Street Committee Will Investigate
Plans to Purchase Additional Automatic Equipment

SCHOOL OPENING A PROBLEM

Mayor Scores Overcrowding of Machines and Urges Legislation to Remove This Menace

Traffic problems occupied the attention of the city council for some time Tuesday night, when the regular session was held, and the street committee was ordered to investigate plans of purchasing additional automatic stop and go signals for use in regulating speed and traffic.

The committee may consider placing the signals along Main street in the residential portion, as far north as Eleventh street. A plan was urged to place them at two block intervals, but nothing definite decided, and the committee was requested to look into the matter, and make recommendations.

One of the traffic posts may be placed at Second and Morgan streets, on the postoffice corner. This post could be operated by the same mechanism as used in the post at Main and Second streets.

"Petting parties" and "lap parties" in automobiles were scored by Mayor Thomas, who urged legislation to regulate the overcrowding of machines, which conditions are a menace to the safety of others, he said.

Young people crowd into machines, sitting on each others laps, and the drivers are not only prevented from having a clear view of streets, but it is dangerous for a driver to be crowded and not have direct access to gears.

The so-called "petting parties" in which the young people remain in machines parked along dark streets, parks and business district, were also scored, and police will have authority to send them on their way, when found in such conditions.

The parking question, especially on Saturday nights, came up, and it was generally conceded that the matter would be greatly remedied if Rushville people would keep their machines at home, and not occupy the choice places in parking. No action was taken in this regard and some plan may be worked out later in order to provide more room for parking.

A plan will be tried out in Rushville this fall when school commences of having student traffic officers to regulate traffic on street corners near the various school buildings. This plan has worked out successfully in other cities, and will be tried here this year.

Supt. H. B. Allman of the city schools will be asked to appoint students capable of handling the traffic. These students will be sworn in as regular police officers and have full power to regulate the traffic.

During the morning, noon and evening rush of school children, the traffic officers will be on duty at designated street intersections, to slow down traffic and provide safety means for permitting school children.

CEMETERY BEING IMPROVED

Little Flatrock Association Formed
For This Purpose

A Little Flatrock Christian Church Cemetery Association has been formed with the appointment of the following trustees: Walter Norris, Tom Kelso and Carl Wilson.

The cemetery is being improved and the work is being done by volunteer labor. Gifts are being received in the form of money, which is to be held in a trust fund, the interest on which is to be used for the yearly maintenance of the cemetery.

There are many graves which are unmarked or marked only with rough stone. Persons knowing where such graves are, or persons who have relatives or friends in unmarked graves, are urged to come to the cemetery this week and inform the workers as to where the graves are. When the work is completed on the cemetery, markers will be furnished by the association for the unmarked graves, if notified as to the exact location.

DO YOU OVERLOAD YOUR STOMACH?

Di-Jo Aids Digestion and Assists Your Stomach in Digesting Food

An overloaded stomach is dangerous. Many people have chronic indigestion and they can't eat much—in fact can't eat enough to properly nourish the system. If you have gas on the stomach, heartburn, sour stomach, or any of the other common symptoms, you'll be glad to know that Di-Jo will aid you in securing relief.

But remember this, that however strong you may be, however confident you may be of your ability to digest heavy meals, an overloaded stomach always precedes ACUTE INDIGESTION. Chronic indigestion is bad enough but ACUTE INDIGESTION is infinitely worse and is often fatal.

If you have eaten a heavy meal, take a few Di-Jo Tablets. They will almost instantly relieve that heavy feeling, will relieve the distress which overeating causes and give your stomach the relief it is crying for.

KEEP DI-JO IN THE HOUSE AND IF YOU DINE AWAY FROM HOME, KEEP IT WITH YOU. YOUR STOMACH IS THE MOTOR OF YOUR BODY. IF YOU CHOKER IT TOO MUCH IT MUST BE AIDED. DI-JO WILL GIVE ALMOST IMMEDIATE RELIEF. GET IT TODAY OF ANY DRUGGIST.

If you are troubled with constipation take DI-VAC. It is sold by all druggists and is recommended as the proper laxative to be used in connection with Di-Jo, if any is needed.

CAUTIONS AGAINST RAPID EXPANSION

The yield for last year. The normal production for Indiana is about 63,000,000 bushels.

"If corn should sell as low as sixty cents a bushel, Indiana farmers would still have $64,000,000 in their pockets from the corn crop than they did last season," Howard said.

"This sum distributed over the state will make a big difference in business. Everything points to prosperity during the coming months."

Farmers have already begun buying in anticipation of good crops and rural banks are loaning money more freely.

ONE LIVES TO TWO SMALL BOYS

John Rowe and Wife, 70, Saved From Drowning in Lake

Warsaw, Ind., Sept. 2.—John Joseph Rowe and his wife, both nearly 70 years of age, today owed their lives to the heroism of two small boys.

While fishing in a lake near here, Mrs. Rowe fell from the boat and her husband leaped in to save her. Both were helpless.

Max Hall, 12, and his brother, Stanley, 11, went to the rescue in a row boat. They pulled the woman in to the boat and held Rowe's head above water until other help arrived.

HEARING POSTPONED

Albuquerque, N. M., Sept. 2.—The preliminary hearing of Carl C. Magee, editor, was indefinitely postponed today, it was announced here, Magee being physically unable to make the trip to Las Vegas. He is charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of John B. Lassiter during a quarrel with Judge Leahy.

Laporte—"Judge, when she comes in at 3 a. m., she won't tell me where she's been, and then sasses me," said Fred Brickman, when questioned why he slapped his wife in the mouth. Mrs. Brickman asserted her husband had not worked two weeks in two years. Both were fined $1 and costs.

Portland—Because there is no ordinance back of them, Portland police are removing "stop" signs recently placed by the Kiwanis club. Out-of-town motorists obeyed them but local drivers didn't. Confusion resulted.

Washington—Three boys, admitted that they were participants in a recent hold-up in which two Martin county farmers were robbed. They got only $1.50 from the farmers but received two to fourteen years in the State Reformatory from the judge.

Boulevard Lights Lighted

The string of pedestal lights along Memorial Park boulevard were lighted for the first time Tuesday night and attracted considerable attention, as they blazed the trail along the park driveway. All of the lights have not been installed, and the system is not completed, due to the fact that the forms were destroyed in the fire at the Dill Foundry this summer, and new patterns will have to be made. The lights along the boulevard will probably not be lighted again for a week or ten days until the system can be put in better shape, and they were lighted last night in order to test them out.

One of them gave bond, and the other was committed to jail, pending the hearing on their case September 14. On account of the cases being in juvenile court, their names are prohibited from being published, as an order prevails in the juvenile court that such cases are not for the public, and a mention of such constitutes contempt of court proceedings.

In addition to protecting the health of drivers, the latest order will lessen the chance of accidents by preventing worn-out drivers from having charge of busses.

Letter

BY CHARLES P. STEWART

NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—The Department of Agriculture's Bureau of Biological Survey was prompt to resent the adoption of Dr. William T. Hornaday, the zoologist, that the bureau had done all it ought, to check the destruction of the country's bird life, but the Department of Agriculture's Bureau of Entomology comes across with the information that the birds certainly are being destroyed.What the entomological folk have to say is purely on their own account, not in answer to the biologists' rather angry rebuff of Dr. Hornaday's charge. They simply arise to remark that bugs are a good deal worse agricultural problem than they used to be, and that the reason is—there aren't so many birds."NATURE has her balance," as Congressman Martin L.
Davy, the tree doctor, remarked to me recently, "and when they're disturbed it makes bad work.""For instance, giant life would be endangered but for birds. Insects live on the plants and if there were enough of them they'd eat all the vegetation up. There wouldbe enough of them, too, if it weren't for the birds. They eat the insects."They eat so many, if there are enough birds, that the plants both thrive and grow. The more birds the more plants. But destroy the birds or reduce their number considerably and the insects multiply enormously and at a prodigious rate, and simply sweep vegetation away."That America's bird life has diminished greatly in the last generation is two no authority on the subject denies. Some of the Agriculture Department entomolo-gists estimate that it has been reduced by half in 25 years. But they reply the destruction occurred during the earlier part of the 25 years, when less protection was afforded than is afforded today.
It's different now.Dr. Hornaday says not. He says it's inadequate and that it isn't enough. He thinks the Department's biologists know it but don't do anything about it because they're too completely under the influence of the American Game Protective and Propagating Association, whose members, he further hints, seem to him more interested in hunting than in protecting and propagating game.TOM the curb and gutter, because of the city property, which is the lower also ordered installed and a reso-street will be benefited. The new sidewalk will begin on the south side of Eighth street, at the alley between Jackson and Sexton, and run east to the city limits at Spencer improvement will be September 18.Plans for paving two alleys in specifications.One alley is for two blocks, run-

GET CONSIDERATION

Hodge Branch had another inning last night, it being the time set for a conference with the railroads.
The C. I. & W., the Big Four, and the Nickel Plate railroads were all represented with some member of the engineering department. The plan was presented to them in detail, and told that it was necessary for repairs to be made on their bridges in order to give the city an outlet with the proposed enclosed sewer.The C. I. & W., will be compelled to build a new bridge, under the plan, as the course of the branch is to be changed just west of Spencer street. The railroad officials left the impression that they would not build this bridge unless forced to do so because of the cost involved, and because the railroad is without funds to pay for the cost. The discussion of the matter was long, and it was finally agreed that the railroad would make estimates of the cost, and submit it at a later date. The other two railroads, the Big Four and the Nickel plate, will have to enlarge and repair their present bridges, and the representatives intimated that they would comply with any reasonable request, when plans were drawn and the contract awarded for the enclosure of the ditch.On account of a controversy that arose over the kind of material being used in the sewer extension in Belmont, which started Tuesday, the council appointed O. P. Mauzy as inspector on the job at $5 a day.
The city engineer stopped the work after it commenced yesterday, asserting that some of the material was second class instead of first class.The plan of enlarging the electrical units at the water and light plant, which was set aside when bids were rejected a few weeks ago, was again revived Tuesday night and following a plan suggested, a consulting engineer, H. C. Carroll of Indianapolis, was heard. He presentedAbout Your

SENATORS LOOK TO BE CERTAIN VICTOR

Seems to be as Sure of American League Championship as Pirates are of National

PITTSBURGH OUT IN FRONT

Athletics Looked Bad Because They Were Uncertain in Field—Symptoms of Young Team

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
Washington, Sept. 2.—Washington now looks almost as much a certain pennant winner in the American League as the Pittsburgh Pirates seem sure champions in the National League.

The Pirates are leading the New York Giants by eight games in the National League and the champion Senators ran up their lead to 43 games when yesterday they overwhelmed the young Philadelphia Athletics in the first game of the series that may decide the pennant.

It is not safe to hazard a guess on the form in one game but there was enough superiority shown by the Senators to make it safe to plunge a prediction that they are about in which the pennant.

The Athletics looked so bad—not so much because they could not hit that old master, Walter Johnson, but because they were uncertain in the field; they could not handle the ball in a tight place and they did not know what to do with it when they did handle it.

Their work had all the symptoms of a young team that has gone to pieces and their defense had none of that sparkling execution that is so characteristic of Bucky Harris' veterans.

There are seven more games to be played between the two contenders and the Senators look strong enough to do better than break even, counting yesterday's game.

Stanley Coveleskie, the former Cleveland veteran is expected to pitch for Washington today and Connie Mack is in such desperate straits that he may have to call upon his ace, Sammy Gray.

FANS CLAMOR FOR THE RETURN OF BABE RUTH

When Huggins Reaches Same Frame of Mind, King of Swat Will be Back in the Game Again

REFUSES TO DISCUSS FUSS

New York, Sept. 2.—(U. P.)—When Miller Huggins reaches the same frame of mind as New York ball fans seem to be in Babe Ruth probably will begin playing baseball again.

The fans indicated in their reception to Ruth when he arrived here yesterday and again when they shouted for him at the ball park during the Yankee-Boston game, that whatever the Babe has done, they are willing to forget it if he will only go out and hit a few home runs.

Huggins announced that he will "talk to Ruth" when he decides the Babe has learned his lesson" and not before.

Ruth penitent and far from defiant, plainly indicated his desire to "meet Huggins' half way" and apparently has forgotten all about his declarations that "Huggins or I will have to quit."

How long Huggins will keep Ruth out of the game was more or less a question today. Ruth planned to be at the ball park again today, ready to put on a uniform and take his turn at bat if his manager would let him. He seemed more concerned over getting back into the game than at what had been done and what would be done about the $5,000 fine imposed on him.

Huggins refused flatly to discuss what it was that led to Babe's suspension, saying it was "many things," "not just one act."

McGRAW WITH ARRELS

Irish Meusel's Catchback

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Sept. 2.—Last winter when John McGraw was trying to make some room on the bench of the New York Giants for several promising young outfielders, he took an invoice of his stock on hand and decided that Irish Meusel, his veteran left infielder, was not an essential.

He offered him to the Chicago Cubs for Bob O'Farrell, the veteran catcher, but the Cubs didn't want him. He tried to sell him to the Boston Braves but found no market and finally he asked waivers on him with no response. The salary was too much for some of the less prosperous clubs that might have used him.

All dressed up with nothing to do, Meusel spent his time on bench duty during the first half of the pennant race and he didn't grumble. He had been through his ups and downs before and he took his position with fatalistic philosophy.

Finally the chance came and when it arrived, he jumped back into the game with the enthusiasm of a player who had been starring all season instead of one who was being used because there was no one else to be used.

Hack Wilson, star of the 1924 season, blew up and Frank Walker, one of the sensations in the training camp last spring also failed to deliver and Irish went back to his old pasture.

His timely hitting—he always was a terror in a pinch—did more than anything else to keep the Giants in the race on the club's second western trip, and when the team returned home he kept winning game after game.

Perhaps new ambition was born in him when he found out that he was slipping out of the major leagues and that no other clubs wanted him. The threat of the minor leagues may have invigorated him but the causes are not important.

If the Giants win the National League pennant, much of the credit must go to Irish, and it is quite certain that when McGraw takes an invoice this winter, he will not be listed among those who can be spared.

Meusel was not the only one of the lower ranking celebrities on the team who came through in a pinch when the Giants were fighting to keep out of third place.

Hank Gowdy, "old Golden Rod", hero of the battlefield and the diamond, joined Meusel on a rampage of hitting and delivered when the big stars of the team were not coming through.

Gowdy was one of the mainstays behind the bat last season but there were rumors early this season that in some unknown manner he had brought upon himself the displeasure of his boss.

He was used very seldom behind the bat, although he is a much smarter catcher than Snyder or Hartley, a much better hitter and just as fast as they are.

Yet he was not given much work until the second western trip and he was one of the leaders of the attack that carried the team through the enemy territory.

Just before the team returned home McGraw announced that Gowdy had been released to negotiate for the management of the Columbia American Association club. This looked like a magnanimous move on the part of McGraw, but developments placed a different light on it.

Gowdy landed the Columbus job and said that he was going to take a vacation for the remainder of the season and the next thing heard was that he was talking terms with Jack Dunn to finish the season with the Baltimore Orioles. It is hard to reason why McGraw would let a catcher who was batting .325 get away from him to a minor league club for six weeks of the most important part of the season.

KEEPING ONE EYE ON THE SCORE BOARD

Yesterday's Hero: Roger Perkinpaugh; veteran Washington shortstop, doubled with the bases filled and stole home accounting for four runs that beat the Athletics 7 to 3. The Senators increased their lead to 43 games.

Hard hitting off three Philly pitchers gave the Pirates their fifth straight victory 10 to 3 and increased their lead over the Giants to eight games in the National League pennant race.

While the penitent Babe Ruth looked on as a spectator Bob Meusel became the leading slugger of the American League with his 26th homer that gave the Yankees a 2 to 1 victory over the Red Sox.

The Braves moved into sixth place in the National League when Larry Benton shut out the Cubs, 2 to 0.

DEFIES HIGHWAY COMMISSION

Marion County Surveyor Will Follow Own Plans on Roads

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 2.—(AP)—George Schmidt, surveyor of Marion county, today defied the power of the state highway commission to supervise road specifications in the county.

Schmidt announced he would construct the Frank Mann road in Marion county on his own specifications which he had been forbidden to use by William Titus, chief engineer of the state highway commission.

Titus declared the specifications did not conform to those recommended by the commission.

Controversy over the Mann road specifications led to the removal of Chesleigh Gray as chief engineer for the commission last month.

MOVIE NOTES

A Notable Cast

In "Dangerous Innocence," the Universal-Jewel screen play coming to the Castle theatre Thursday and Friday, Laura La Plante and Eugene O'Brien, who are co-stars in this screen version of Pamela Wynne's story, "Ann's An Idiot," have been surrounded with an exceptionally capable cast.

Among men, in Jean Herschell movie fans will greet an old favorite. To Mr. Herschell was assigned the rather disagreeable character of James Gilchrist. It is Gilchrist, of the British Colonial Service, with a mind of vile suspicions and tinged with jealousy, makes all the trouble for Ann Church (Laura La Plante), and Major Anthony Seymour (Eugene O'Brien). William Humphrey, as Ann's father, is another old favorite included in the cast. Then there is Alfred Allen, as Captain Rome, the dignified skipper of the steamer on which most of the action of the play takes place.

Hedda Hopper, to whom was assigned the task of playing the role of Muriel Church, mother of Ann, finds herself the central figure in a most interesting love problem. She is called upon to choose between motherly love and womanly pride when she is suddenly confronted by a situation revealing the fact that the man who once loved her has fallen in love with her daughter. Milla Davenport, as the stewardess, and Martha Mattox, as Ann's aunt, are among the other women in the cast.

Gorgeous Biblical Picture

The Red Sea and San Francisco are about five thousand miles apart. The Israelites led by Moses on their exodus from Egypt are separated by about forty centuries from Sunday after-noon jazz dancing today. Yet, Cecil B. DeMille has managed to put them together convincingly in his picture of "The Ten Commandments." This great Paramount picture is coming to the Princess theatre today, where it will be shown for the first time at popular prices.

The modern story opens on a devout mother driving one of her two sons from home because he will not "apologize to God" for what she believes sacrilege. The son goes out into the world, not bitterly, but boyishly exultant, to smash every commandment. Then DeMille develops his theme that "If you try to break the Ten Commandments they'll break you."

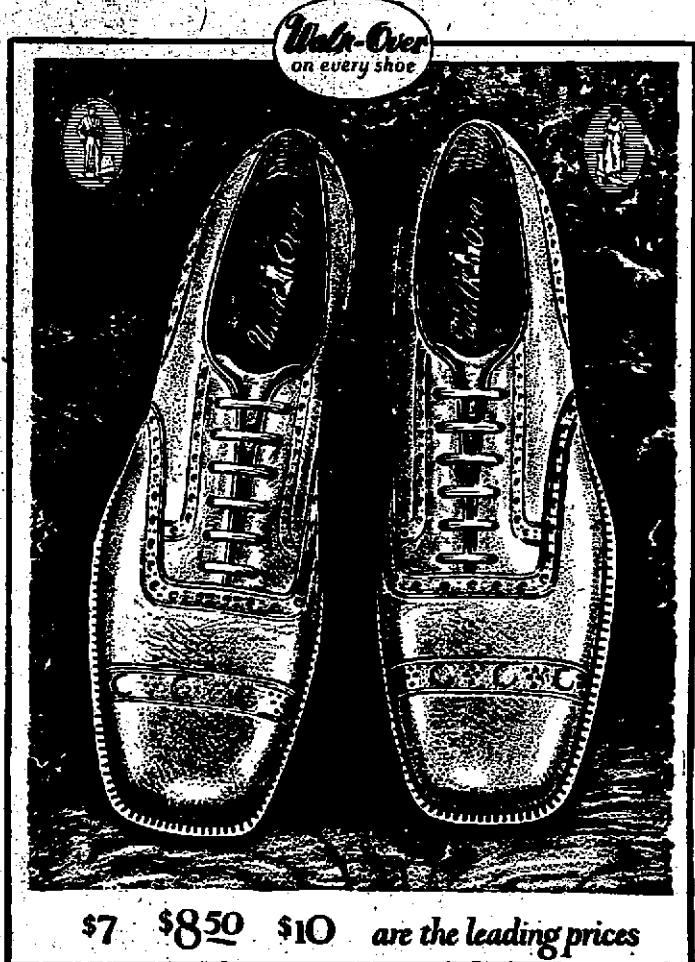

A gorgeous Biblical episode, done in natural colors, is enacted by such popular players as Estelle Taylor, Theodore Roberts, James Neil, Charles de Roche, and Lawson Butt. The two million persons who have paid from one to two dollars to see this greatest of Paramount Pictures testify that the highest point the cinema art has yet reached, has been achieved in this most ambitious directorial effort of Cecil B. DeMille.

BIRTHS

Walk-Over

SHOES for Men and Women

$7 $8.50 $10 are the leading prices

A bird's eye view of a "bird" of a shoe!

YOU are looking right straight down on this new Walk-Over style—a bird's eye view. Look at any Walk-Over from any angle—style, fit, wear. Just one eye will tell you that it's the best you can get at the price.

Style! That's why you see this shoe in this out-of-the-tenth-story-window view. It is the new, short-vamp, wide-toe style, made with the quality look that only Walk-Over can give it.

Wear! You'll be stepping out in Walk-Overs, long after ordinary shoes are worn out.

Fit? That's where Walk-Over stands as supreme and unequalled as an American gold dollar. The one trick of making shoes cling at heel and ankle as closely as a flapper's make-up is found exclusively in Walk-Over shoes. It is the pear-shaped heel.

Here at the Walk-Over store, you'll find a Walk-Over waiting for you, in the style you want, wide or narrow, round, square or pointed. It will fit. Wear it, and know why comfort is every Walk-Over shoe's middle name.
